

MONTSALVAGE'S RETURN

SYNOPSIS

I have little doubt that, when they do not downright ignore it, most people will only sneer at my "message" and brush it off like another pathetic "doomsday false prophecy", perhaps just a little more far-out than others, amidst the many that have come and gone so many times throughout human history.

My words are not aimed at them. They are for another group of people who may still be out there. Other folks, very different from the "human cattle" that gleefully rush to the slaughterhouse, rare but elite folks who are taking very seriously the countless warnings which have been sent to them. I just "HOPE" still that those few people, whom I am here to help and rescue, will not have been previously too severely turned off by my abhorrence to "modern civilization" and its vile zealots. I also "HOPE" that behind my "wrath" and "revolt" at so much injustice, at so many crimes and at such self-destructive madness, they have also felt my "LOVE", the very source and reason, in fact, of my righteous anger!

My agenda, you already know it: To offer those who do not entirely deserve it, an actual chance to bail out from the sweeping "Bio-Catharsis" imminently to befall. To contract it, through the "MONTSALVAGE" aspect of my dimension... from which, according to the primal myth, all LEGITIMACY arises.
