

PROLOGUE: Student Endorsement

In a world of chaos where Life and Justice are quaint but "distracting" concepts from a by-gone era and where crimes against the Divine Natural Order are the accepted norm, one man stands up and throws his entire essence against the momentum of man's degeneration. Philippe Sauvage has led an epic life of combat against Evil and its agents, from the bowels of corruption itself to the highest planes of Transcendental Consciousness and along the way received the brutal blows all too often dealt upon the Honorable by civilization of the Damned.

Philippe Sauvage now puts out the call to find people of like heart, people who are ready to experience the next phase of human development. The question now posed is, "What have You done? What have You created to address the call of your own conscience? Where-ever you are in your own growth process, the time is NOW to atone for the past; the time is NOW to stand up and shout "No More!" in the face of a world gone mad with greed, petty hate and denial of consequence. Simultaneously, the faint of heart need not apply, for though Philippe Sauvage is the Defender of Life and Enforcer of Justice, he is not a Teacher and is not seeking followers. NOW is the time for action and experience and fulfillment of purpose. NOW is the time to Wake Up and "smell the formaldehyde" of stagnant civilization, the antithesis of Life.

Earth and Life have suffered too long and must now fight back. Earth will cleanse herself of the scourge of cancerous man, yet the ULTIMATE survival of Life on Earth depends on US: The survival of an evolved form of our species, and the restoration of man's most ancient ancestors' role of protector and guardian. To do so, we need help; the help of the most powerful "tools and technologies" from the highest dimension available today... the very domain of Avallac'h, ... Philippe Sauvage. If you are ready to participate in Earth's cleansing and ease the transition to that new world of Immanent Balance in Life and Justice, then this call is for you. Cast aside your presumptions and ego and recognize the immediacy of the last turmoil man will experience. Most will recognize their plight far too late, but you who feel the call of awakening conscience now have a place wherein to seek Sanctuary, to heal your existential wounds and rebound from larval form into the Imago of your full potential. Ask (as I did), and receive the armor and weapons not made with hands to rejoin the war for Truth, Honor, Life and Justice, the rule of Divine Natural Law without which Life cannot survive.

My Testimony

I went to see Philip because I was sick, had always been so. All my life I had suffered from candida, which made me unresponsive and distant with deadened senses, and had tried everything that I came across to try and fix it. As my family have always told me, it's like I was on another planet, like a misfit. I was debilitated and fairly dysfunctional; had always been teased for being sluggish and slow on the uptake. People perceived me as stupid.

Now, fourteen months after seeing Philip, my health is profoundly better, more vital and robust than I ever thought it could be. My eyesight is fully restored from having to wear glasses all the time; now I can read small print all day, with no pain, and with no glasses ! Also I have vastly increased energy reserves, more stamina; my brain functions far better and the pain that I felt about my childhood has gone.

My relationships with both of my children are stronger, more beautiful and more rewarding. My sense of spirituality is greatly enhanced, enabling me to cope better with life. My brain is faster, more responsive and my common sense is sharper. Also I have great rushes of exuberance and happiness and no longer have any cravings for sweet things. I feel feminine and no longer physically awkward.

I have seen major miracles take place in people and animals. My friend's boyfriend has been transformed from totally unconfident, suicidal depressive to a buoyant, positive, happy, self-possessed person. People free of arthritis, free of drug and alcohol addiction, anger and violence problems. People free of anxiety and trauma, particularly rape trauma. My daughter's puppy was run over by a car; she had tyre marks on her back end and had internal bleeding. Two and half days later she was on her feet and walking a little. Seven days later there were no signs that her accident had taken place, except that her pelvis was on a 45 degree angle. Three weeks later that was totally realigned and still is.

I have found what I've always wanted, the real thing; something that it is genuine and true; not part of any great illusion that humanity has embraced, something that really can help the earth, and any living being that gets to use it. I am so lucky to have found this. It has been worth a thousand times what I gave. It's what I've always looked for, and infinitely more than that alone.

Philip has the capacity to help vast numbers of people, worldwide. With the media attention generated by the global fire burn tests, more people, and very wealthy people will grasp at this and use it for whatever means they require. Proceeds from their contracts will enable the setting-up of laboratories so that the IMAGO project can get underway, which is critical for the earth and human consciousness as a whole.

IMAGO Project

As a scientist and paleontologist, Philip Savage's greatest and most ambitious project is "IMAGO", designed to bring humanity from our extremely limited capabilities, to perfect completion, our full potential. Forty thousand years ago, our immediate ancestors, Cro-Magnon, had a better convoluted and more active brain, of 2.2 litres, not unlike a killer whale, or a dolphin. Today it is only 1.4 litres, a dramatic deterioration in such a short time. Now try to imagine a humanity of a couple of million years ago, which has, controversially, nothing at all to do with the Ape.

Dr. Savage says we have devolved for millions of years because of our vulnerability to the forces of chaos, those forces of destruction. Thus we are all larvae compared to our own potential. Consequently, there is an evolutionary leap that's long overdue, which has also been blocked by the destructive forces -- for millions of years.

Philip Savage has the capabilities to bring this project IMAGO into action, the project that will reconcile Man and Earth. A Huge amount of money is needed to build the scientific instruments that Philip has developed: Unique, specifically designed pyramids and a sphere of a rare alloy with a special liquid inside. Through thermal imagery he will connect to and process the people that are within the sphere. Philip guarantees that on leaving the sphere, they will be complete humans, having been "fast-tracked" to where we, as humans, should be -- guardians, not destroyers, of life on earth.

Currently we are not able to use our brains at more than ten percent. Through the IMAGO PROJECT, we can do far better than taking our brains to our logical maximum of one hundred percent use. We can go back to true humanity, where there is no separation between the mind, the soul, the body, every living being, everything in the universe, and with God.

We have forgotten our Unity, our Oneness. We have been lobotomised from our senses, from one another. This can be re-established; Philip is able to pass us the key, which we can then all pass to other people. Philip is ready to delegate, because time is now so short for our own and our earth's survival. First, he needs to give people effective proof, QUICKLY, hence the global severe fire burn tests that prove, scientifically, the existence of a higher power.

Then, we need to set up the centres and laboratories with the necessary computers and personnel to APPLY, on a larger scale, his advanced science of Morphogenic Composite-Ideogram Cybernetics (MCC). With Philip's Morphogenic Cybernetics technology, scientists can blend the DNA and morphic images of vast numbers of people into a single composite ideogram (a "snowflake") of condensed digitised information. This ideogram is then processed by Dr Savage using his highly potent and proven powers. The result is a shift in the recipients to a higher consciousness, a restoration of homeostasis, and a removal of destructive behaviours. Applications of such a science in criminology, security, business, health, and anti-terrorism, in fact to any social, political, ecological or corporate group, are limited only by the imaginations of the applicants.

The people that respond to what Philip offers, when they realise what this is and that it has to be used, will be re-empowered. They will be awarded their chance to serve the Earth and to stand and fight for Life and for Justice. They can come to Philip's machine (when it's financed) and as he says, "be transformed". With Philip we have the technological ability; all that's needed now is the financial. The people will come... in droves.

THE WOLF IS OUT OF THE BAG (Philippe Sauvage, April 2004)

Now that, against all odds, I have nevertheless managed to reach the age of half-a-century (more like fourteen million centuries... in actual, yet "insane," truth), I reckon that I have really nothing left to lose by putting off, once and for all, all previous existential "masks," "disguises" and other "fronts" of mine... Certainly, by doing so, I may then look like some "sitting wolf" (not a duck, please...) to some, or/and a "good damn" candidate to the "straight jacket" for most. What is "great" though is that, at this very stage of my "life," I do not care "half a man's ass" about what anyone can think, "friends," "supporters" or "adversaries" just the same. Besides, I am not such an "easy game" to hunt nor a defenseless "crackpot" to internalize for many have already tried, without much success obviously. Indeed, by trying so, all they have achieved is to make me grow stronger, wiser and... fiercer than before. Therefore, if there are out there some more candid candidates ready further and farther to reinforce "The Beast," (how else could they label me, according to their pathetic sub-cultural models ?...) by trying once again to vaporize "It" -in its best "Orwellian" sense, of course-, I truthfully thank them in advance for such helpful contribution of theirs to my cause.

It is nothing but obvious that, should it be something else but the sheer ranting of some "deranged mind," a "technology" like MCC is parsecs away from what a "primitive species" like "yours" (may some "exobiotes", stranded on/in that planet/dimension, who have not much in common with the S-3's "monkeys" currently "in charge," forgive me) could ever conceptualize, let alone... produce. What is less obvious, though, is the actual reason why such outer- "techno-sapience" would come now "on the market" when, logically, a few million years of exponential anagenetic evolution should be required before the "dominant" local life-forms get the minimum stage of intellectual readiness from which they could actually understand it and use it. Well, the problematic is that, far from such hypothetical anagenetic evolution, modern "anthropopithecus" is already the end-product of millions of years of dire catagenetic involution that is only worsening and quickening at an unprecedented pace now. Furthermore, we do not have millions of years ahead: Despite the intense and deliberate emasculation of this planet's immune responses, contrary to the wishful thinking of the very engineers of the geocidal agenda, "your" Earth will not go without a fight. And if it is very possible that S-3 will not survive long the removal of its rightful Guardians that have turned its own annihilators, the human race shall not have the "privilege" to witness the eventual consequence of its eco-spiritual crimes for it is next on the list of an imminent "geo-cathartic spasm." This desperate bio-immune reaction from a moribund planet may not save it durably -in terms of evolutionary perspective-, since its most essential bio-cybernetic agents would have then become extinct, but this, at least, will give S-3 an opportunity later on to expire on her own choosing, in peace and with the necessary dignity its special status deserves...

My "transdimensional" status allows me (in truth, it obliges me, somehow against my own... "proclivities"...) to make a very last move toward the old "Geo-Phylactic Guards," humans once were and regardless of what they have now become, before (just before, indeed...) the planet chooses to die. To die from bio-anemia rather than from human AIDS, the immunological betrayal from its bio-praetorians. To die from bio-impoverishment rather than from "anthroposarcoma" wherein its very human "oncogenes" have seceded from their bio-normalcy, have renounced their morpho-evolutionary role and have entered a suicidal race toward "immortality" thus elevating themselves to "self-deification"... just before being violently wiped out as logical consequence of their ludicrous bio-megalomania. For reasons far too complex to be hereafter mentioned, even though human history is literally rife with "external interferences," I am not "myself" authorized directly to make inroads within human "internal affairs." It is going to be then to you, people, to decide whether you can still wake up and save your sorry bio-evolutionary asses before your own planet awakens you in its own way... before it puts you all to sleep. If you could only comprehend even a little my true nature and true origin, you would logically and immediately realize that the issue is of the utmost indifference to me. As I have written it a long time ago "freewill... she is a bitch" !... I am glad that I did not get the dubious "favor" to have been bestowed with such double-edged "original gift"... but you have. Now it is the time to prove whether it really was a "gift"... or a self-inflicted "curse." Either way, I shall be there, with you, for the highly heuristic "transition" to come. One last word. Since I am neither god nor devil (disappointed about this one ?...), as I do not come from another planet or galaxy either (even more perplexed ?...) and yet I do not belong to your world (not even in its most cryptic or remotest mythical frontier), is there anyone out there who has the faintest idea of where (or when ?...) I am coming from ? Still, I have been dwelling right at the very core of your deeper collective unconscious, all along. Too bad you have lobotomized yourself one dimension too many ! ...

Thulea: The ark of the IMAGO - 13 May 2004

It has been quite a while now since some have somehow begun to wait and smell the unmistakable scent of what we usually refer to as "end times", while the other human ostriches did all they could to bury their heads further and deeper beneath the mud of deliberate ignorance, just to continue, if only for a few more years, the wasted path of their meaningless lives... But now, even the most foolish doesn't dare anymore pretend that everything is just...fine... That man is headed toward a "bright new future" where all the wounds he has been inflicting to his own planet, therefore to himself, could be healed... forgotten. Nowadays, everyone, rich or poor, young or old, walks with his fingers crossed "hoping" IT shall not happen too soon, too painfully or even more sick that IT will just not happen to him or her, just to others ! Even though the twentieth century has been that of the worst slaughters, genocides and environmental destruction, there was still some measure of hope, of idols, and of faith. Now everything is gone. Ideologies, philosophies and spiritualities (let alone "myths" which have only become some far out alien concept from a bygone era) all have but gone bankrupt! To "deal", so to speak, with the unavoidable, rather than somehow atone or repent at the last moment for all his atrocious crimes, man has chosen to go just the other way. Not unlike murderers, psychopaths whom when their time has come and their arrest only imminent, choose to give themselves a very "last blast" and to go on a last killing spree on an unprecedented scale, humans have unquestionably upped the ante of their past criminal behavior by taking the path of a full scorched earth policy... Having nothing to lose anymore, they have heightened the pace and extent of their eco-depredation and of their internal self-annihilation up to as yet unmatched new heights!

Yet, perhaps undeservedly some would think, at the very grim light of his collective full accountability, there is more than an "ideology", more than a "philosophy", more than a "spirituality" and even more than any hope that has been bestowed on man, that comes just at the very moment of his final demise, like a last hand unexpectedly (some could even mention the word "miraculously") offered when one has already given up: Thulea is a ...MYTH. More indeed than a "myth" as it existed here and there all along the human existential course, Thulea is in truth...THE MYTH. The first and therefore very logically the last. As any geologist or paleontologist (or "initiate") knows, it is in Hyperborea that it all began (the oldest rocks, the evolutionary matrix of all life forms, etc.). Then, when human collective unconscious hazily but persistently refers to ideas such as "lost paradise", "Golden Age" and the like, it is also right into the Hyperborean myth it connects. That is why, in a world which has lost all systems of reference, in terms of values, origin and purpose, it still makes sense that this last hand offered at the very threshold of "Judgment Day" comes from the "last of the Hyperboreans", Philippe Sauvage, that is.

Yet, if there might be some very last chance "Ark" soon to materialize to keep just a few from well-deserved final extinction, it must be clear though that this "ultimate rescue capsule" shall never become a survival system for rare and privileged elect whose sole worth for instance would be their financial capacity to get a first class and one way ticket to the "promised land". Even though it certainly will be the most expensive fare of any trip which mankind has ever conceived, money or power alone shall not be enough to have the right to "get on board". There are FORCES greater than anyone could possibly imagine which have made the decision to put "human experiment" here on Earth to a final end, whether the planet manages to survive or not. Therefore, the fact that a very special Envoy of those very forces goes against his own Headquarters by allowing some of the most deleterious agents of the "human disease" somehow to bail out and start all over again in some "post-cataclysmic" new future or new dimension would constitute not only the worst possible form of betrayal but above all an utmost... nonsense! Modern humans are larvae... Self-engineered pathetic and noxious larvae to boot. Philippe Sauvage's "ark" shall not be a container for maggots. Only those, if they do exist, who DO have the proven capacity to evolve into IMAGOS need apply! For the rest... let them crawl about and feed on their own putrefaction for as long as they still can. They are already extinct although they don't know it yet...

MONTSALVAGE'S RETURN - 2 June 2004

In only a few days Thulea's website will be online. Therefore, these shall be my very last words before I "cybercast" the bottle of my "absolute elsewhere" to the somber ocean of modern human psyche, not having the remotest clue whether it will go entirely unnoticed, laughed at or be welcomed as it should: As the "last chance miracle", nothing less, from which man's suicidal course could be in extremis put to a halt, indeed completely reversed. Even when, precisely when, all hope seems to have entirely vanished...

It is, thankfully, not one of my many prerogatives to know in advance how all those ideas of mine, the innumerable existential challenges that I have been through and the "out-of-this-world" skills or wisdoms which, most unfortunately, I am the only one in the world to possess, are going to be received in the characterized Post-Orwellian era in which we are "living". Will all that be seen a monumental joke or will it be understood as something else? Something like the undreamed-of chance to escape the...inescapable, to turn things around, once and for all, exactly, synchronously should I say, when interestingly enough, everyone -- down to the last over-optimistic new-age bozo -- had now clearly begun to prepare for "Consequence Day", very much so on its way.

In truth, I have little doubt that, when they do not downright ignore it, most people will only sneer at my "message" and brush it off like another pathetic "doomsday false prophecy", perhaps just a little more far-out than others, amidst the many that have come and gone so many times throughout human history. In anticipation of what shall befall them... I honestly have much pity, but yet my last words are not aimed at them. They are for another group of people who may still be out there. Other folks, very different from the "human cattle" that gleefully rush to the slaughterhouse, rare but elite folks who are taking very seriously the countless warnings which have been sent to them, but who do not know what to do. Isolated folks who, most likely, have never felt as though they belonged to this world of lies and of pestilence. Suffering folks, certainly very lonely, very much outcast also and often existentially crucified. Crucified without the slightest hope to unnailed themselves from the many crosses Big Brother had in stock for them in the innumerable "rooms 101" of his nightmarish arsenal. It is for them then, and for them alone, that I am stretching my hand out, through the flames of your "infernal dimension", be it once again at the risk of consuming myself entirely in its sinful furnace. It is for them that I have chosen, briefly to go "back home" to Thulea/Hyperborea from where I am right now writing these very last lines.

Even though in my "heart" the concept is basically meaningless, I just "HOPE" still that those few people, whom I am down here to help and rescue, will not have been previously too severely turned off by my apparent "inhumanistic" rhetoric, by the "violence" of my words and of my thoughts or by my unequivocal and genuine abhorrence to "modern civilization" and its vile zealots. I also "HOPE" that behind my "wrath" and "revolt" at so much injustice, at so many crimes and at such self-destructive madness, they have also felt my "LOVE", the very source and reason, in fact, of my righteous anger!

Still, as I have said it, again and again, I am not running a "popularity contest".

But before I go to the "message", allow me briefly to help you get a clearer picture of my true role and function within the specific "rescue operation" which I am trying to set up and then to carry out:

I am not per se "coming" from "outer space" or from "outer time" as many people, even very close to me, like to think (simply by lack of proper referential tools). I am "simply" "materializing" from another "dimension" the exact nature of which you are not psycho-emotionally and etho-culturally ready or apt to "remember" at that stage... What I can yet tell you about that crypto-dimension is that it is not merely one of the many "parallel universes" that inter-cross yours, more often than not, in a completely unnoticed manner to most human "zombies" stuck in their pathetic "fragment of reality" when the true world is actually set-up on a "pluri-realities" mode. This point, at least, has not been entirely lost to a tiny minority of more "enlightened" members of the human race, even though their global understanding of it has always remained, let's say, quite limited. One of the many, yet fundamental, functions of "my" dimension is to play the role of "buffer" between all sorts of "parallel universes" not as dissimilar to yours as you would like to think, and... something else. Something so complex and yet so simple, something so unfathomably immense and yet so much "nanoscopic", something so important and yet so often ignored that, unfortunately no human at that point can fully comprehend it, owing to their current psycho-evolutionary retardation. Something also so Pure, so Untouched, so Beautiful, that its mere evocation, or attempt thereof, already constitutes an apical and unforgivable sacrilege.

The purpose of "my" dimension is PRECISELY to "Serve" and "Protect" this very "Unevokable Something" from ALL possible contamination. From the very "awareness" of what is really going on, so to speak, within and throughout all the "intertwined pluriverses" which, like all things, feelings or events, have yet indeed "sprung" from IT and out of IT. But most fortunately, without direct "feedback" systems that could have otherwise altered ITS fundamental "Unalterable Inalterability". More than a "simple" buffer that preserves this Great Unnamable/Unconceptualizable from risking any kind of "polluting feedback", the dimension which I am coming from, essentially acts as "ultimate line of defense" as well as "decisional headquarters" in terms of "cosmo-ethics"... or something along that line. I truly apologize for using all those pathetic words, concepts and references but I have unfortunately no choice but trying to "describe" the truly "indescribable" to a species that has entirely lost its most essential systems of reference on the question... and so, for a very, very long time. Having then no other alternative but continue in that pitiful semantic tempo, one would not be too wrong by trying to picture "my" dimension as the "power source" and "control center" of "Cosmic Justice" but, then, a form of JUSTICE so "Absolute" and so "All-Comprehensive", so to speak, that its very nature cosmically transcends even the wildest dreams and utopias of the best "righteousness-freaks" that ever set foot or... wings on this planet!

I remember the many debates I have had in this life with the most "enlightened" or "advanced" beings whom I have met here and there, on the hottest issue of so-called "theodicy" or, more simply said, on the highly sensitive relationship between "god" and "justice" (both, deliberately "un-" capitalized). Is "justice" higher than "god" or "god" higher than "justice"? Can "god" be "unjust"... and still remain "god"? Well folks, all that brings out such unbearable stench of "hypotheism" (the concept of which I have already extensively developed throughout many former texts of mine) that I am not going to lower myself deeper in such nonsensical debate. It is because your own comprehension of "god" and of "justice" is so inherently flawed that such question can ever come out, in fact, and trust me, if there is a "place" where all those interrogations find an immediate and definitive answer... it is in the dimension where/when I am coming from!

But, despairingly enough, trying to make you understand all those things is truly like trying to explain to someone, who has been born deaf, the emotional message and the dramatic beauty of Beethoven's 7th symphony. There are many things in existence that one must accept whether one can understand it or not... Life, Love and Death, for instance. Likewise, "my" dimension (indeed even the idea of "dimension" is quite improper when it comes to describe the "Cosmo-Justice Enforcement Headquarters" from which I have been "deputized"...) and what it ultimately represents shall forever remain to most an utmost semantic impossibility to conceptualize. All that matters though is for the hypothetical few who, against all odds, will nevertheless take seriously the proposition of my "coming" (being "materialized" or being "manifested" should be more adequate a description), which is fully to get a valid appreciation of the nature of my "mission" down here as well as my status within that very "mission".

Metaphorically speaking, I am the "Chief-Commander" of some "Secondary Protocol" as well as the "Plenipotentiary Special Envoy" of some "Transdimensional Diplomatic Mission". I know how hugely laughable and pathetically megalomaniac my last propositions will unquestionably feel like to all the "sanctimonious doctor Zaii" in charge of the "planet of the monkeys" T3 has now become but, as I have said often, I have now become totally immune to their sarcasms. Furthermore, I have gotten pretty well aware of their exact "tactical capabilities" after I have managed to survive their use and overuse against me for so long. I may not have survived them entirely unscathed but they also made me grow much, much, much stronger. Therefore, I do not take excessive risks by so exposing myself to the "other side" a few steps further but, on the other hand, I think that I owed this sort of clarification, first to the existing members of my "crew" who have trusted me all along, throughout tremendous hardship and persecutions, without them ever having this kind of information, second to the new folks who, against all "logic" and all "reason", will nevertheless offer me their trust which I shall try to honor the best I can without ever disappointing them. Then, I certainly owe it to "my" own "Transdimensional Headquarters" in the name of which, in the authority of which and in the legitimacy of which I am henceforth "flashing my badge" without possibility ever to retreat back to the (relative) comfort of my previous many "human disguises"...

In reductionistic terms I have now become a "guy" not unlike this "soldier of the future" in that typical Hollywood secretion called "Terminator". A "guy" who is claiming highly interesting things about the future, about cataclysmic events imminently to come, a "guy" with an "emergency agenda" of unprecedented urgency. A "guy" with a fascinatingly coherent story with highly detailed qualitative information about it, very different in every respect from all conventional "crackpots". Yet, all the people in charge to whom he is trying to talk and explain his story seem to have no other most immediate agenda but sending him to a mental institution... Well, there is a major difference between that fictional character and myself: If you do remember the movie, the man came across time... empty handed (fully naked, in fact), not having a way to "prove his case" so to speak. He could not bring along some "ray-gun" or something to that effect. He did not have any special "telekinetic powers" or "paranormal abilities" that could have been handy in the context. In one word, he was just "fried" in terms of reductionistic scrutiny and, without his escaping the police station and the shrinks' claws, he would have very likely spent the rest of life in a "straight-jacket".

Well, I am not a fictional movie character... and, more importantly, I did not "come" empty handed! I have "skills" and "powers" which no human has. I have proven it, again and again... and I am ready to do it at will ! Indeed, as soon as my website is on, one of my most immediate projects is the setup of a new research institute unique of its own whose purpose is to use the current paradigmatic tools and methodology... against the very same paradigm itself. An institute entirely designed to expose the untruth wherever it lies (pun intended) : To debunk all sorts of preposterous propositions and false claims in all sorts of far-out domains (alternative health, telepathic spies, "clairvoyance", psychic detectives, etc.) as well as in the field of conventional axiomatic science (which means most... so-called "sciences") which no one has ever dared, thus far, to question or challenge as a whole... In that project the motto will be: "Where there is no longer room for untruth... there is space for the TRUTH". But not before. Then, of course, there shall be some "totally preposterous claims" that will prove... not so preposterous after all. I may need some more "alternative thinking" and "meta-scientific breakthroughs" from some new outcast "pioneers" whom Doctor Zaius' so-called "scientific world" has but systematically, despised, rejected if not downright persecuted owing to the too "far-out" (or "subversive") nature of those pioneers' works, theories or claims.

But, aside from giving those "paradigmatic pariahs" a chance to see their semantic contributions finally proven, accepted and successfully "put on the market" for the sake of a greater good, my institute will also have in charge to put me to the test: To challenge my "skills" and "powers" even further and with the toughest methodological experimental criteria that I have ever been subjected to. By doing so, not only I will better cut the grass under the feet (the hooves, should I say, in relation to their nature of characterized cattle) of my expected detractors but also regroup my own "crew" on a stronger system of trust where "simple subjective belief" shall have been replaced by absolute expericism (ex-piric = from the experimental proof only), a much more potent fuel than subjective "trust" when it comes to an agenda as solstitially fundamental as mine!

My agenda, you already know it: To offer those who do not entirely deserve it, an actual chance to bail out from the sweeping "Bio-Catharsis" imminently to befall. Then to transform themselves in evolutionary terms, on an unthought-of exponential pace and extent, up to the point when/where the new species they have become is ready to take over an entirely new world, after they have regained full psycho-existential meaningfulness, bio-evolutionary Imagothood, and absolute readiness to contract a new and final "Bio-Covenant". To contract it, through the "MONTSALVAGE" aspect of my dimension... from which, according to the primal myth, all LEGITIMACY arises.

Now, on the most concrete basis and the best laconic style I can refer to, I am going to give a few hints on the "modus operandi" upon which my new "work" will take place.

First principle: No compromise. Even before now, those who had the chance or misfortune, depends, of knowing me "at close range", all knew that "compromisingness" has never been exactly the most salient feature of my psycho-behavioral makeup. Well, now it has become better... or worse. For all candidates to... THE Journey, there shall be now but one simple protocol: The "all or nothing", period. Hesitants, poltroons, lukewarms, schemers, bargainers, egomaniacs and, above all, freeloaders need not apply!

If you could only have the remotest idea of what is really soon to come, you would ALL and UNEQUIVOCALLY understand why there is no longer room for any form of discussion. Especially on the question of the "fare", taken in its most literal sense, by the way. On how much my "work" costs, to be precise. You may not know it yet, but you are already extinct. Aside from your sick illusions, in view of what is being unleashed (not what WILL be, but what IS already sweeping...), you don't own anything anymore! Therefore, whether you are going through a hopeless health or existential crisis or whether wealthy and healthy, you have just begun to wake up and "smell the coffee", and then you are trying to get a "last chance ticket" in the only "bathyscaphe" that could allow you to make it through as the "water inexorably and quickly rises", it is all the same. You are no longer in a position to negotiate. You SHALL NOT have it "on the cheap" anymore, ever. If you have been perceptive or instinctive enough to "read the writings on the walls" and fully realize that you have just entered "Dante's Infernos", then it would be clear to you why, if you do wish for my help, if only by lack of alternative solution, it would be henceforward "on my terms", no longer on yours, when you are dealing with me. Otherwise, just keep praying or keep your fingers crossed.

Yet, if you have been courageous, indeed "heroic", enough to go through ALL my writings and ALL my existential adventures, and then "smart" enough to read "beneath" the words and reach "behind" the stories, you already know that I am everything but "insensitive". You also know that, among the many "motivational drives" of my highly sacrificial existence, greed or power have never been part of the picture whatsoever. Concretely said, it means that if, on the principle, the folks whom I may accept to rescue will have to "lay down" ALL which they "mundanely" or "secularly" believe they own, I will nevertheless "retro-entrust" them with what I deem decent for them to answer their normal existential and socio-familial needs, of course. Well, until full-fledged "Bio-Catharsis" has rendered all such references totally meaningless as well as completely obsolete, obviously. But because explaining in details the exact specifics of the procedure would take us forever and since, precisely, we ALL are running out of time, each candidate will be dealt with on that pivotal question, on a "case by case" basis. This will be done with compassion and open-mindedness but also with absolute firmness according to my orders, by the "inner members" of my crew, whom I have specifically taught and debriefed thereupon.

Now, it must be clear also that when it comes to "regular business" (no matter how derisible the idea may sound in the global cataclysmic context...), as in the use by some corporations, groups of people or individuals of my MCC technology, for instance, it is not to "Transdimensional Imago Ark" candidates which we are referring. Therefore we shall be dealing with them on another practical mode and from a different ethical perspective. We will follow with them the usual rule of "supply and demand", knowing that my technology is, and will remain, the only one "on the market". Therefore one can expect costs exactly proportionate to its rarity (a rarity of...one, indeed), yet not quite the "all or nothing" system, proper.

Second principle: No direct personal contact with me. Except in exceptionally rare cases where I, and I alone, will decide that one specific person has reached the point of Etho-Evolutionary readiness from which direct interaction with me is reciprocally risk-free and mutually beneficial for the advancement of the "rescue operation", all protocols will be remote-protocols. Despite their horrendous psycho-retardation, humans have nonetheless managed to reach the "cyber-age" that has transformed this "vast planet" into a small "inter-connected village".

For those who could be "disappointed" of not meeting me "in person", here is what I have to say: You know, with your five self-restricted

"senses", you seem not to have the semantic capacity fully to understand it but, whether or not I am putting "in motion" my "transdimensional powers" at one inch from my "subject", from "you", or at ten thousand miles (or parsecs...), it is exactly the same. Even after decades of so-called "new" or "quantum" physics, people still manage to believe in the ludicrous ideas of "separation" or "locality". In fact, whether you are "fusionally climaxing" with your "sister-soul" in the most beautiful, sacred and egolytic extasis of all your "past", "present or "future" lives or whether it is of "total strangers" living on the other side of the globe whom we are talking about, you are just as much united with one another. No more in the first situation than in the second. Whether you want it or not, whether you like it or not, it is the same: Everyone is as much a part of you as you are a part of them! In the same time, and this is the "beauty" or ... the "nightmare" of this very dimension wherein you are all stuck, you still remain... "separated" or, more accurately said, "temporarily unmergeable" with one another. You are all One and yet, you are all "different". Once again this is the "gift" and also the "curse" of your so-called "incarnation" within this highly anomalous dimension which is yours and to which, oddly enough for me, you seem to have come to get used to!...

Do not worry too much though, if you need them so badly, the answers shall soon come to you, all of you, as Death is the OTHER "Anankhe" (my form of "Anankhe", so it seems, you have lost track of it a long, long time ago...). In them both all illusions and ignorances vanish!

And now, at the very threshold of "jumping across my own Rubicon" from which there shall be no crossing-back, perhaps somehow, to make up for my lives-long necessary "harshness", I wish to conclude my "human existence", so to speak, by a surprising note of ... kindness:

I, who have been often pictured as the hardest edge of the "sword" of "Bio-Justice", the "fierce" guardian and enforcer of all "Bio-Laws" (some would mention "Bio-Torah" or "Bio-Dharma"), I am indeed much more sensitive and responsive to human distress than you could have ever imagined. More indeed than that of all other life-forms. In actual truth I am infinitely more reactive to the injustice people inflict on one another than I have ever been in response to even the worse treatments to which the rainforests, the wolves or the whales have been subjected. More emphatic indeed than what is befalling... this living planet, as a whole! Can you believe it?

It is because, there is something so noble, so beautiful and so sacred in man, in every man indeed, something so sublime and so mysterious, that it clearly transcends all we can find within each and every other known life-form, even put together:

This capacity to choose "altruistic self-sacrifice" for a noble, and yet almost abstract, cause, no other animal has it...

This ability to "rebel" against injustice, even against the so-called "natural order" when, blatantly, it brings down or up too much individual or collective suffering, where else but in man can we find it?...

Then, this persistent, vertiginous and sublimely hubristic (some would wrongly say Promethean) desire to change, reform and improve things, up to the unattainable "dream" of perfect "cosmic-harmony", this also makes man unique...

All of those enthralling features are truly... proper to man.

All along I must have given the wrong impression: That of having some sort of "etho-ideological tunnel vision", exclusively focused on EVIL, for instance, which is also and unquestionably proper to man and, more indeed, to those who have "engineered" man in its modern corrupted form. But, now it certainly is the time for me to set the "clock right". To proclaim and acknowledge, for the first time, but surely not for the last time, the "other side" of man's extreme duality. Can you understand that it is, PRECISELY, because of the unspeakable betrayal of man's enlightened role and man's glorious identity, and even more, in direct response to his deliberate abandonment of all his aforementioned sublime qualities and virtues, that I and my dimension have in return become so deeply, so cosmically and so rightfully "angry" at man!

It is at the very moment when I am ready forever to renounce my previous "human shield and disguise", for me then to become who/what I am supposed to be within the course of events to befall, that I ought to make that very shocking, but very healthy, public statement. Somehow, it is as though, in short anticipation of my own unavoidable "etho-metamorphosis", I were already "missing" the "feelings" which you have, and will have, the privilege still to "experience" whereas they shall soon have become distant "memories" to me.

I do not know yet whether there shall be more than a handful of "candidates" courageous or "crazy" enough to try jumping aboard my "Imago Ark" but if some of them were, previously and understandably, worried about relinquishing too much of their old human shell, be it for the sake of a never dreamed-of "biocosmic-utopia", they should begin to feel much better about it now.

I may have soon the unique privilege to free them forever from their former "morphanthropic prisons", in terms of bio-evolutionary and etho-spiritual retardation I mean, but I take the solemn oath never to alter the beautiful sacredness and the original gift of their co-divine Humanhood: On the contrary, my noblest goal of "cosmic-midwife" is to make them "born-at-a-gain" (and what a gain!), to DE-dehumanize them and thus re-establish them into their full Imago dimension.

Well, to make them fully Human, in fact !

PROTOCOL AND MODUS OPERANDI

This protocol is aimed at individuals, groups of people, business corporations, municipalities, state and local law enforcement departments, private security organizations and government entities willing to use MCC technologies for their own specific agendas. [Call or e-mail Catharsis directly for application procedure: (+1) 760-415-4550, psscjd@yahoo.com.]

It does NOT directly concern those who, after thorough reflection, have made the decision to apply for full integration into Philippe Sauvage's works and projects. For this highly particular and most rare kind of person, only the conditions explained in "Montsalvage's Return" shall apply for them to become "inner members" of Philippe Sauvage's crew, the "all or nothing" sort of commitment, that is. As those "special candidates" will be dealt with in a "direct and personal" manner by Thulea's highest ranking executives, specially trained and de-briefed on the subject, they are therefore dispensed with going through the normal process hereafter detailed. Those "special candidates" simply apply by filling out, signing and submitting the "[Transdimensional Contract" found by clicking here.]

However, this process is more typical of persons facing all sorts of existential, health, legal, or financial crises as well as individuals, not necessarily in crisis, but wisely seeking personal or financial enhancement, rather than previously mentioned groups or organizations whose objectives and expectations may be somehow more complex to explain or finalize. Although, prior to further discussion, these individuals must also submit a contract and provide for a substantial contribution to Philippe Sauvage's work and projects, they too will be dealt with by Thulea's executives in relation to their respective needs and programs.

Typical Application Process for Individuals in "Crisis" or Seeking "Enhancement" in their Health, Legal, Financial or Existential Conditions:

CONTRACTUAL PROTOCOL OF TRANSDIMENSIONAL REFRACTION

I, _____ Born on _____ In _____

Profession/Occupation _____,

Hereby, certify to have thoroughly read, to have fully understood and to have unreservedly accepted each and every detail of the present document.

1. Transdimensional Refraction (Hereafter referred to as T.R.) relates to specific processes and sciences, for which there is no semantic equivalence, whatsoever, within conventional human psyche. It refers to ideas such as multi-dimensionality, multi-possibility and multi-reality, which all directly collide with the severely restricted and purely axiomatic interpretation of man's own existential setup. Unlike human self-imposed pan-reductionism, a more evolved gnosis like Transdimensionalism, does not lie on gravely erroneous and morbidly alienating concepts such as spatio-temporal confinement, phenomenological restriction or subjective attachment to the primitive dichotomy between so-called "real" and "unreal." On the contrary, it reaches out far beyond man's psycho-cultural limitations as well as man's self-inflicted neuro-sensorial restrictions. Without replacing or denying altogether the relative validity of certain aspects of what is usually referred to as "physical laws," it simply completes them in accordance to a better all-comprehensive and all-inclusive "Weltanschauung." In respect to most applications for which it will be solicited by the "requestors," according to their specific need or agenda, T.R. could be heuristically summarized as the: Science and processes by which to unfold and manifest events of various nature that, within human self-imposed phenomenological fencing, would be otherwise labeled "unfeasible" and therefore judged inattemptsable. Said otherwise, and in the best Laconic tradition: T.R. forms the expirically objective possibilization of the axiomatically subjective impossible. Yet, one must always keep in mind and accept the idea of some "transdimensional borderline": "Higher Laws" which could not or should not be transgressed do exist, be it only for deontological reasons far too complex to be hereafter explained.
2. Even though from a purely semantic point of view, T.R. has nothing in common whatsoever with any known form of human -- or even non-human -- so-called "spirituality," on a strict legal ground, it ought nonetheless to be unreservedly accepted as activity typically covered and protected under the First (and, also under the Second) Amendment of the Constitution of the United States of America or under any similarly inspired system. A system, which emphatically protects the very "Freedom of speech and of thought" of all groups and of all persons, according to their own chosen systems of beliefs (and then, grant them the non-metaphorical rights and tools to do so), regardless of the apparent or subjective "plausibility" of their respective philosophical creed and irrespective of any numeric prevalence or dominance of an ideological majority (be it a "minority of one"...). Anything less, indeed, just brings forth the fatal seed of "ethocide" (the annihilation of people's most fundamental substance) from which there is no crossing back, ever.
3. In full obedience to the solstitial rule of Reciprocity which sources up right at the very core of the only Law that completes and transcends all others, JUSTICE, all donations, services and commitments freely offered by the requestor to prime up any T.R. attempt OUGHT to be strictly proportionate to the very level of his/her own threshold of "paradigmatic impossibility" which T.R. processes are precisely meant to transgress or transcend. Proportionate also to the very nature of the specific T.R. operation that can significantly vary from one another depending on its respective degree of "unfeasibility". Then, finally, proportionate to the requestor's own objective capacity to offer, as Justice (even in its most mundane socio-professional expression) remains the sole and unique "key" that opens up and shuts down all "transdimensional gateways." There shall never be any refund of any kind should the requestor freely, accidentally or forcefully (as in some unlikely dismissal situation wherein his/her ethical standard would no longer qualify) withdraw from the T.R. protocol or should his/her own subjective assessment of the T.R. outcome not match up his/her poorly appraised previous expectations thereof.

Date _____ Place _____

Compulsory Signature of the requestor:

Facultative signature of two witnesses:

Add fingerprint (right index finger): _____

NOTE: Required signatures: Yours and two witnesses.

NOTE: If your donation is financial, either send a money order or transfer funds directly into the Catharsis bank account. Wire transfer details are available upon request.

NOTE: As stated in many of Philippe Sauvage's texts, and most clearly explained in paragraph three of the "Transdimensional Contract", your donation MUST be directly proportionate to the seriousness of your crisis or of your enhancement expectation, proportionate to the unfeasibility of the challenge, proportionate to your own social situation and financial capacity to donate, then most importantly it ought to reflect some respect to Philippe Sauvage's background, to Philippe Sauvage's very unique skills and powers, as well as to Philippe Sauvage's person and projects... All this simply means that your "good-conscience-oriented" routine of one-hundred dollar donations to "Greenpeace", to "hungry children" or "cancer research" will not do by a long, very long, shot).

THERIATRICS: For animal cares or animal enhancement, which of course, constitutes a very important aspect of Philippe Sauvage's work, the "Contract" will be filled out and signed by the "owner" but we still need blood sample and DNA report, photos, video and "voice" of the animal. In addition to that, we need some hair sample (or feathers or scales, etc.) of the animal. Please also provide the creature's name, species, breed and/or variety, best approximate birthdate and location. All of it will be sent through Email and Fed-Ex in the aforementioned method.

Rest assured that no matter how much all this DNA, sonic, morphic and psycho-behavioral required data may strike you as highly "unusual" (so also is Philippe Sauvage's person, work and... RESULTS), we still need these data to realize your highly unique "personalized holographic ideogram" upon which all Philippe Sauvage's work is based. The more accurate and extensive the data he has on his "client" the more direct, accurate, effective and efficient the outcome. (Then again, if you are looking for "conventional" methods and "usual" results you'd better go to "Lourdes", "Sedona" or to your habitual "medical quacks" -- or just keep trying your chance at the "national lottery", depending on the outcome at which you are aiming !...). Just remember what Philippe Sauvage has already been able to accomplish by himself, without even the exponential effects of his highly futuristic MCC technology. So if, by reading and verifying by yourself all his unheard-of accomplishments, you are not fully convinced, you should simply refrain from wasting our time which has become an extremely rare "commodity", in view of the dramatic changes imminently to befall us all.

IMAGINE... MCC (written for thulea.com, April 2004)

MCC takes the incredible power encompassed by its predecessors (themselves still unmatched by the imaginings of other researchers and scientists as much as 25 years after their inception) and dramatically boosts their efficiency and specificity. What technology had previously been unimaginably powerful is now raised by orders of magnitude by the processing and morphing technology of today's advanced computers and software. Developed largely for movie industry 'special effects', this 'hardware' technology being employed by Philippe Sauvage's 'software' technology of Subliminal Influentiality, now comes into its own as a truly productive and beneficial advancement, finally being put to use in direct and dramatic shifting of individual and group perspectives from the closed and stagnant status quo to the vibrancy and vigor of youth, also blended with the wisdom of experience. This combination of youthful energy and ancient/ageless wisdom yields the best of all worlds for the "client" and intended targets.

You've always wanted to be a better person, a better parent or business person,... to be happier, more productive, have a purpose... or whatever your dream. What has held you back? Truly? You know a better world is possible! What prevents you from achieving your own maximum potential? First, your imagination is limited by the matrix composed of fear and doubt and ignorance. Second, those fears and doubts and lack of expanded awareness impinge and disrupt the natural flow of creative Life-force within you. From that revealed perspective, you may more easily imagine the application of MCC in your own life and activities.

Theriatrics and Theriarchy (written for thulea.com, April 2004)

As anyone must easily understand it, alongside their "Green-Brethren" and much more indeed than the pathetic modern "human race",

Animals have a very special status in my "heart" and in my "table of values", even from the newly and purely transdimensional perspective which has now become mine... After all, alongside its function of hiero-evolutionary axial womb from which each and every taxonomic "branch" and "twig" originally dawned, didn't Biophylactic and Gaiatric duties constitute the very reason why the Arch-Praetorian Guard, man's remote Ancestors, was ever "engineered" ?... Actually the subject is of such solstitial importance that even though I have already (and soon will, furthermore) "delegated" a relatively wide spectrum of my ancient "wisdoms" and "skills" to a few "lieutenants" of mine, there is only one sole being on this planet to whom I have ever bestowed the primordial theriatric "powers" that used to be an essential part of my previous cosmo-existential make-up. As such, more indeed than the unique theriatrician of my "crew", owing to a lifelong and faultless bio-sacrificial commitment to defending and enforcing the Sacred Natural Laws, I have rightfully dubbed this very unique person to the rank of Theriarch: The highest in terms of Biophylactic skills and duties when it applies to animalistic Bio-Alchemy. Perhaps, in the future, I could form other theriatricians who would have then the immense privilege to work under the guidance and supervision of this "very special Lieutenant" of mine, but only this specific person will ever legitimately carry the title and rank of Theriarch. For there can be only one bio-transmutational "Wiver" at the time thus to exhale the flowing breathe of the primordial "Dragon-Source"... He who still has "scaly ears" let him hear !

In relation to the vital need for the Theriarch never to incur the risk of being polluted or compromised by man's civilizational pestilence, the few applicants deemed worthy of soliciting this person's skills for any Animal health or behavioral crisis or for any Animal bio-enhancement cannot and shall not have visual or oral contact with my "Beast-Master," ever. Save in exceptionally rare and highly-sensitive eco-scenarios, such as bailing out some given life-forms or species from immediate extinction, for which the Theriarch would have no other choice but direct personal contact with the endangered animals (and, subsequently, with the people in charge of the rescue operation), all Theriatric procedures will transit through myself and shall be always carried-out from a distance. I alone will be approaching the "Wiver"... with all the bio-protocolar precautions Theriarchical duties absolutely require.

It goes without saying that, in terms of sheer "health" or "trauma" outcome on our fury brethren (or even on plants, my "green animal brethren"...), theriatrics far exceeds –indeed transcends–, whatever real or pretend results any previous or current would-be "animal healer" has ever claimed. Last but not least, as it is the Animal's sole interest that theriatrics is aimed at, not the interests of its so-called "owners" and their always subjective, often selfish, agendas, each applicant shall sign a specific contract which focuses only on, and concretely guarantees, the very well-being of the animal and then, will strictly abide to it !... Lest the whole theriatric procedure be voided from its very substance. This contract, for instance, will define –on a case by case basis– the optimum bio-existential framework in which the animal should be living its new life after it had been successfully "theriatrized". It is a contract on true animal rights and subsequent human duties about which we are talking, here. Therefore, unless people are strongly, genuinely and altruistically (indeed... sacrificially) concerned for "their" animal's rightful pursuit of its own bio-happiness, they should emphatically refrain from requesting the Theriarch's help for what is, in truth, their own selfish surrogate wellbeing.... This being perpetrated through the bio-emotional projections, the existential vacuum compensations and the transference-victimization systems which they ignominiously persist to call... "pets."

HYPERBOREAN MYTH: The Last Strobinner (written for thulea.com, April 2004)

All along the Hyperborean-Armorian tradition, there has been a strange and strong obsession with the idea of "Strobinner." Etymologically, the word "Strobinner" gravitates around the concept of cultural shift (today we would say "paradigmatic replacement"). A Strobinner is some sort of a "cosmic midwife," a pivotal being which, when the time is right, is expected to help the birth of a new system of beliefs. For instance, one of the most "recent" of all Strobinner had for his mission to help Europe transition from polytheism into monotheism, from paganism into Christianity: His codename (only a codename...) was Meurzhin (a.k.a. "Merlin"). All Strobinner are said to be sent from a mysterious place (or a space-time dimension) called "Montsalvage." In the Arthurian legend, Montsalvage is a "floating castle of Ice or crystal," in which the immemorial sacred Guardians (Templars or, to be totally accurate, Templists) of the Holy Grail are in charge of the processing of the "Sacred Crystal," which is the only source of Divine legitimacy.... In relation to that specific aspect of the question, the "super-knight" Lohengrin of the old Germanic tradition also epitomizes the Strobinner's true nature and cosmic role.

There is a persistent legend in the Hyperborean tradition that one day, when what we call the end times will draw near, the last of all Strobinner shall arise to bail Man out of his suicidal separation with God. Such a Strobinner will mark the very end of the Hyperborean history, in the sense that after him, concepts of ethnic or religious separation shall be erased, Man reaching then a level of true spiritual oneness. The last Strobinner is supposed to bring people to a condition of ethno-spiritual unification so complete that Man could then reestablish a new Sacred Covenant with God and be reinstated into his original mission of enlightened steward of the Divine Natural Order, here on Earth. This idiosyncratic being is supposed to come from the feminine matrix with all the wisdom and powers it entails, but will be also bestowed with the masculine lore and skills for the very first and last time in the Hyperborean history.

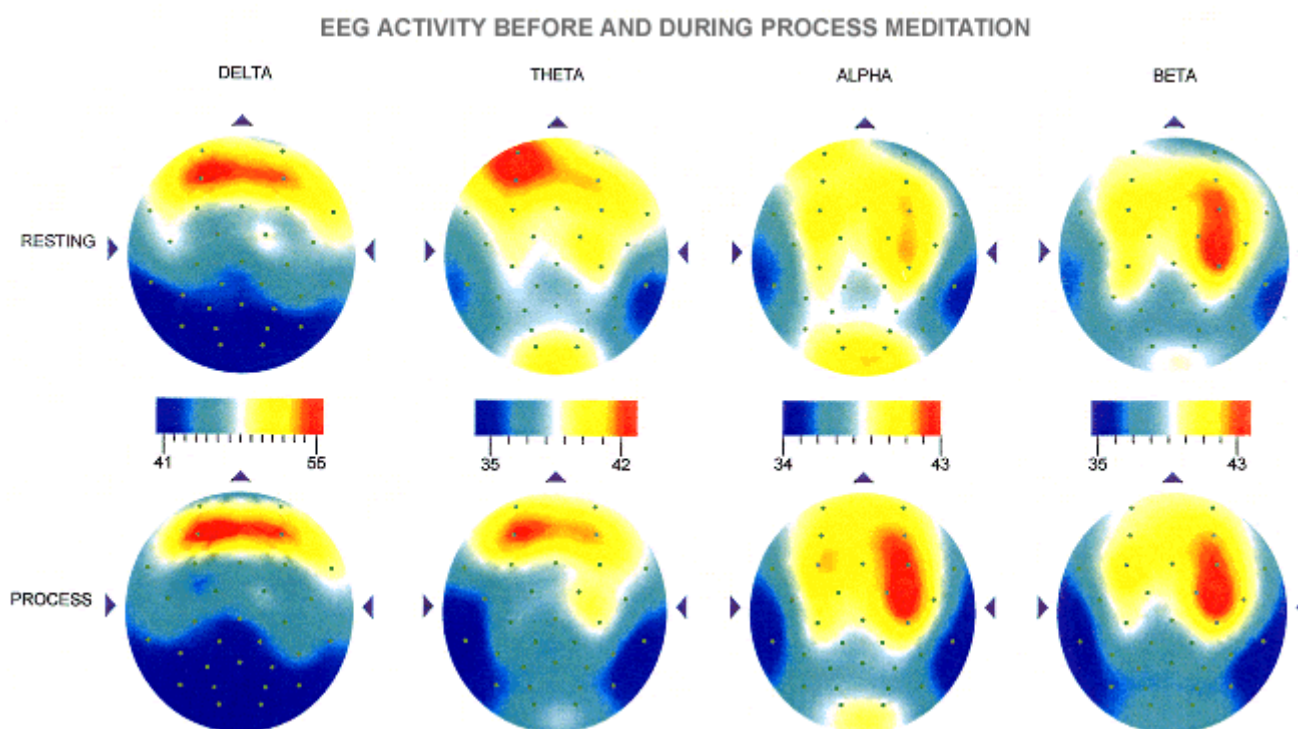

To my most extreme reluctance and with all the dramatic existential consequences implicated to me, I was brought up by my own sacerdotal clan to accept the (unacceptable) idea that I would be this terminal Strobinner. I do not know whether my (impossible) compliance to my matriarchs' insights would have brought upon me better luck in my life than my vehement rebellion to such an idea... Yet, for a solid understanding of my own psychological makeup, it is of considerable importance to remember that, like anyone else, I am also the product of my own cultural conditioning and that my entire childhood was about the fulfilment of such old dusty legends.

EEG (Brain-Mapping), Scripps Clinic, California

SCIENTIFIC REPORT on Philip Savage's UNIQUE Brain activity recorded on February 16, 2000 at the Scripps Clinic Neuro-Biology Program. No other human brain has ever been documented with such increase in Alpha Band (30 to 40 TIMES increase in power), a phenomenon attributed by scientists only to large sea mammals.

EEG ACTIVITY BEFORE AND DURING PROCESS MEDITATION: ALPHA BAND (7-12 CYCLES)

Power increased 30 to 40 times over right frontal cortex. This phenomena is "un-precedented."

CATHARSIS: Biognostic Unit of Geonoetics

Catharsis is a 501(c)3 not-for-profit religious organization incorporated in the State of California.

Mail: to: CATHARSIS, 204 N. El Camino Real (E721), Encinitas, CA 92024, United States (+1) 760-494-0084

Catharsis is dedicated to "the awakening of some bio-higher-consciousness within people to help them break free from their larval condition and reach the Imago phase of some cosmically integrated real Humanity. A new Humanity, ready for a long awaited evolutionary leap that would usher us all into a new all-inclusive Peiradigm (established from a 'proven truth'), not paradigm (based on cultural assumption)." (Journey into the Absolute Elsewhere, 5)

Summarized Purpose: "The Earth is a living and spiritual entity, the most obvious reflection of the original Divine process of Bio-Creation. Unfortunately, because of human civilizational bio-depredations, God's primordial plan has been critically compromised. If dramatic changes within human consciousness do not occur soon, the continuation of life on our planet looks quite improbable. Our main purpose is to assist Geo-Immune reactions to come, in the Earth's struggle for her own most immediate survival.

Summarized Founding Principles: "Life is Divine in origin. Natural laws are the most obvious reflection of God's infinite wisdom and therefore, natural Laws are the LAW which we intend to abide and enforce by all means necessary. From time immemorial, man has seceded from his original assignment of Bio-Guardianship. By electing themselves, sinfully, to the rank of 'gods', men have betrayed the prelapsarian Divine Covenant which entrusted them to protect and serve all living things. In doing so, men have purposefully renounced their original status of bio-midwives in the processes of Divine Dynamic Creation. They rejected God's sublime gift of bio-delegation by which the primordial people shared the sacred privilege to be electively associated with the Divine Work of co-creation here on Earth. The damning principles of bio-separation chosen by man are not atheistic in origin but clearly anti-theistic. Renegade humans do not deny God; worse indeed, they radically oppose God by their own anthropomorphic self-deification and by waging an all-out war against Life itself. Besides his peccable self-idolatry, man's main causes of bio-indictment are his fanatical secession from Bio-Oneness, his morbid denial of Bio-Spirituality at every level of Life, and his systematic defiance of all Divine Natural Laws.

"Our Faith is a faith of bio-reconciliation. Our Ideology is an ideology of bio-reunification. Our Philosophy is a philosophy of bio-reintegration. Unless we, ourselves, could initiate our own bio-redemption after enlargement of our bio-consciousness and proactive atonement for man's past bio-felonies, we should not expect Divine external redemption. For a new Bio-Covenant between us and God to stand a chance to occur, we must first demonstrate our bio-worthiness and prove our new bio-awareness. People's man-made, sick ego must give way to our God-made true self, a self so pan-inclusive that it is no longer confined to our miserable geo-cellular level, but a never ending expansive self which unifies the so-called micro-biological domain and the cosmo-biological dimension into one sacred whole. In return for abandoning their sick corporeal and materialistic attachments, the new people will attain bio-oneness and therefore bio-immortality and bio-infinity, not in the context of some highly speculative afterlife, but right now and right here on our living Earth.

"We call Biognosticism such a system of beliefs and Geonoetics the semantic tool with which we intend to confront the human paradigm of bio-separation and theo-opposition. The name Catharsis exemplifies the spiritual purification and bio-atonement through which we must go if we want to stand a chance to petition with some measure of success for a new Bio-Covenant...

"Owing to the current situation of acute bio-spiritual crisis on Earth, we are completely running out of time for us to work on a new progressive agenda of slow bio-awakening to raise human consciousness up to the level that the Earth's terminal health condition requires. Even people with better ecological consciousness than average do not fully realize that we may have been already reaching the very point of no-return of life recovery on this planet. It is not because the Earth could very well survive a few human generations without going to lethal vital annihilation that our planet is not already mortally wounded. The effects of human pollution by C.F.C., for instance, because of their devastating long-term catalytic effects on our atmosphere, will only reach their peak of ozone destruction in more than half a century. The horrendous climatic results of industrial deforestation, also, may take place long after the crime has been perpetrated. Similarly, genetic alterations occur way before the global disastrous teretological consequences eventually materialize. We do not have, anymore, the option of patience.

"We need to put, right away, all our resources and energy on a project that can counter efficiently and most concretely wide-scale bio-depredations here on Earth..... What I am talking about is for real, really real, just trust me on that one. I have basically spent the last quarter century proving with strongest scientific evidence its very reality. ... To the question, should I decide by myself to change the course of events which may soon end up on the demise of the human race and the extinction of life on Earth, the answer is immediately, obviously and definitively, No! But, if the question is, should you, good-willing people, highly-evolved beings and bio-enlightened members of the human race, resort to such subliminal bio-techniques in order to preserve your own survival and that of your own Living Planet, the answer is yours. No matter what direction you decide to go, I will try to support you and to help you as much as I can. If you elect to use me as the instrument of such bio-strategy, I shall immediately obey you and put on my armor of Strategaiarch. Remember, I am your servant. You are still endowed with something which you call freewill. I am not...

"More than [twenty] years ago in Europe, at the time I was breaking through beyond beliefs in the field of 'human health and bio-spirituality', all my lawyers unanimously advised me to set up my world organization by creating an American nonprofit religious organization. To a point they were right, but they also ignored my previous political situation with which you have been acquainted ... by now. So I declined. Yet I knew already the power of the U.S. Constitution upon the American psyche (and far beyond), also its Divinely inspired First Amendment. Now, here I am, ready more than I have ever been, to assume whatever higher plan my Maker has for me. I have learned humility and obedience the hardest way. All I ask for, now, is bio-spiritual Servancy...

"May Life, Death and Justice, all Divine in nature, bless us all in our coming sacred mission." (from Journey into the Absolute Elsewhere)

Recap: If man is to avoid the worst of 'God's wrath,' the coming cataclysms, which are agents of Earth's own auto-immune response to our crimes against Nature, Life and Justice, man must clean up his act quickly. Man must voluntarily purify himself by atoning for past crimes against Life and Justice or be eliminated by Earth's own cleansing mechanisms. Man must recognize that "Life is absolutely 'divine', Natural Laws are absolutely 'sacred', anything that abides to the 'Divine Natural Order' is righteous, anything that deviates or opposes it is not, period. Any action or doctrine that asserts itself in blatant opposition to this absolute truth constitutes an unquestionable criminal bio-violation with all moral and logical consequences it entails." (The Warshal, 1-4).

GLOSSARY (for Philippe Sauvage's "unique writing")

Language, specifically the spoken and written word, has become the medium which fallen humanity has come to rely upon for communication with each other. Yet such language has itself devolved under criminal neglect by its practitioners. Even as new words are created to be names for new developments, entire dictionaries of contextual grammar and concept are lost. Search for older dictionaries of your own language and you will find a cosmos or two of words no longer used or even recognized... How much more so the depth and meaning for each word yet still in use. Whereas one word 100 or 300 years ago (let alone 1000 or 2000 years ago) may have had 5, 10 or 15 meanings, now that word has only two or three definitions. Wisdom and Truth are the casualties when such desecration and Orwellian 'word destruction' is perpetrated against our tools of communication with each other and ourselves. For people who mistakenly wonder why all these 'new' words (which are not new, just forgotten) are used and presented in this website, we suggest you read or re-read George Orwell's 1984 to catch unmistakably the lengths to which an Evil Genius will go in order to remove the semantic tools (and therefore the capacity of thought) necessary to comprehend your environment and your inherent rights, duties and capacities. Recognize, for example, that most people around the world don't know the meaning of 'liberty'; even in the 'land of the free and home of the brave', the meaning of the word is now subject for debate and continual redefinition. Virtually all, if not all, around the world have lost consciousness of the true 'Divine', 'Truth', 'Justice', 'Life', 'Honor', 'Duty', etc. You may think you know what these are, but there are enormous depths to these concepts, words, or egggregores that even the imagination of man has forgotten or of which man has been divested. Into this pit of political correctness and thoughtcrime, 'doublethink' and confusion was born the Being we now know as Philippe Sauvage.

In short, the common language of today is completely inadequate to transmit the Truth and Wisdom retained and intended to be transmitted by Philippe Sauvage. The most efficient method of transmitting what needs to be revealed is the resurrection of dead language and the re/construction of words and phrases, the combination of which in Sauvage's discourses provides and/or hints at deeper meanings. The truth is here for the willing to learn.

For deeper context on this extremely potent dynamic of language as the link to potential, we provide this excerpt from The Warshal:

Even for an "inter-dimensional" being like me whose semantophoric capacities are extremely different from, let us say, an average human being (without judgmental connotation, whatsoever), it still constitutes a definitive logical impossibility. Indeed, to be totally honest, I am convinced that my "inter-dimensionality", so to speak, only consists to know what I know not... and be capable to live with such terrible truth, the truth of the definitive certainty of one's own fundamental cognitive bounds or limitations. Intellectual humbleness truly is the only path toward superior wisdom. The fact that I may be free from debilitating illusions such as "self", "death" or even that of "time" should theoretically give me a substantial edge in terms of better comprehension of the true nature of the world and of its most essential processes. In point of fact it does not. It just teaches me this intellectual humbleness that I was mentioning before. It keeps me from wasting my existential energy trying to look for answers to questions that I should not be asking. It helps me "dissolve" myself into the flow of "cosmic wisdom" that is freely and equally afforded to all living things of the whole universe in the same "universal language" which, by its very nature, "speaks" to all in such a way that structural or sensorial differences, no matter how immense they may be, cannot form an obstacle to "process" the type of "information" it "channels". Therefore, what I am requesting from the persons who are reading those lines is this sort of "intellectual humbleness". It is the only way by which they can hope somehow to share some elements from this "cosmic wisdom" which does not flow from me to them but from the very "source" to all of us, freely and equally, as I have just mentioned it before. My "role" in the operation is to become some sort of a semantic simplifier and cognitive "midwife" in what should ultimately be the first contractions of their own "essence delivery". What I am intent on giving birth to is their "truth", your "truth", not mine. Although all livings things in this universe are ultimately one, still we all are inherently different for the "greater good" of Life's "divine" synergy. Therefore, for the very sake of the "Highest Truth", all synergistic "truths" ought to be slightly, sometimes dramatically, diversified. I know how unusual my second "request" may sound like also but perhaps, before moving to the next stage, you should try to "meditate" or retreat from your habitual reality (I certainly shall...) in the way you feel the most comfortable. You must "lose yourself", entirely, before you can be "replenished". Most of all, you must relinquish your own "spatio-temporal bearings," or the illusion thereof, since your "truth" can only be born from your very "nothingness" which, I hope that you will understand it, is the same as your ultimate "allthingness". (The Warshal, 7-4)

THE WARSHAL By Philippe Sauvage (2001)

Deontological, Ethical and Scientific Manifesto on the Origin and Treatment of Evil

The Warshal is the most recent epic installment in a life of authorship and research and is purely Philippe Sauvage at his ever-improving best. The Warshal is a work combining paleontology, biology, history of all eras and epochs, theology and so much more. It is at times an autobiography, but always it is a Biography of Life. Indeed, it conclusively addresses the meaning of Life and the meaning of Justice without which Life wouldn't exist AND the meaning of Evil which threatens both. As brutally honest as this Book is, it is still shocking how easy some assumptions fall. Here are a few excerpts from The Warshal:

"...I slowly begin to lift up the veil that has haunted mankind from the very dawn of its incipience, the veil of its own ultimate cosmic and existential truth..." (The Warshal, 0-1)

"Now, most literally, let us go back to the 'Source'. I would not like anyone to have become so 'taken' in by those 'cosmic conflicts' between 'Beings of Light' and 'Super-Being of Darkness' or between 'Cosmo-Warshals' and traitorous 'bio-cybernetic regulators', to think that, somehow, I have been neglecting the one and only 'direct pipeline' that we (or anyone else throughout the whole universe, for that matter) have with the 'Ultimate Divine'. I have not. Without my clarification on what has been happening and what is still happening at the macrocosmic level, one would not appreciate in its full extent, the inherent sacredness of all the extraordinary processes that take place within our microcosms. And, the deeper and the deeper one goes, the more one is getting closer to the 'Transcendence Within.'" (The Warshal, 9-1)

"So, the world is not irredeemable, man is not born a sinner, the most elevated existential meanings exist in this life...not the next. Unbeknownst to them, there are extraordinary powers in people that just ask to be reawakened, a true Divine, much greater than any previous idea of 'god' dwells within everyone. There are unbelievable advanced 'Beings of Light' out there who protect us, who advise us and are ready to share with us their cosmic wisdom after we have learned to reestablish bio-communication systems. There is no death, just an infinite bio-diversity of ONE sacred global existence. There is no 'hell' but our living Hell. Everything that is natural is rightful. You have the sacred duties to expand all your natural sensorial horizons which especially include your most exulting sensuality and sexuality. Through unconditional Love and Justice everyone can be granted immediate self-redemption from the 'Divine Source.' Bio-Grace is at anyone's reach, freely and readily when one regains the sense of her or his own inner Sacredness." (The Warshal, 9-9)

What is the meaning of Life? The quintessential question and yet so boring, for no human has convincing answers and all it causes is conflict between confused brethren. If you have to change your neighbor's mind at the point of a gun, it is indicative of your lack of proof. In absence of Proof, you would be wise to sit down and Shut Up!; as it has been said, "Judge not, lest ye be Judged." I expect that you have begun to recognize the complete Honorability of Philippe Sauvage; you may have even caught his presentation of a 'new' word, 'Peiradigm' which is from the Greek 'peira' = proof, evidence, experience, trial; an entirely new 'body of knowledge' established on 'proven truths', leaving behind the axiomatic conjectures of 'paradigm', (The Warshal, 15-10)

Philippe offers nothing but Truth and Proof thereof, and by investing in yourself through acquisition and reading of The Warshal, you will see the veils of disinformation across the millennia pulled away to expose a beauty of correlation between subjects and concepts previously assumed or indoctrinated to be unrelated. In fact, all things ARE related. Imagine a 3-Dimensional puzzle of cosmic proportion wherein ALL things connect directly or by paths of evolution in genetics or thought. Imagine complete cross-reference between Life and Death, God and Evil, evolution and creation, physics and the various cosmogonies, Christianity and witchcraft, Judaism and Buddhism, chemistry and alchemy, political science and theology, etc., where even the lies and untruths are connected to the Truth, from which they rebelled, by chains of development and causation. Now, imagine a puzzle without limit on the number of dimensions incorporated!

We all wonder what is Truth and what is merely a veil or myriad veils. In all too many issues nowadays, the illusions are so many that we don't know which way is up. No structure built on these false foundations can withstand the effects of simple weather, let alone the turbulence of these chaotic times. When the veils are removed, the flotsam and jetsam of palimpsested history cleared, bedrock is revealed upon which one can build new and durable structures: structures specifically designed, with intense focus on the foundations, to seemingly 'defy the laws of physics' and withstand the effects of existential tumult. The Warshal is the tool with which Philippe exposes the weak foundations of our commonly believed assumptions as a species and as civilization. He tears away the veils and lays the foundation for a new future, a future built on the solid foundations of Truth and Proof.

Philippe Sauvage pieces together the seemingly disjoint chaos of our world, cross-references it all with his own life of Service to Life and Justice and further integrates with that picture the many fields of bio-and psycho-restorative sciences he has initiated and propelled throughout his life. Thus, The Warshal is a complete package of diagnosis of humanity's and the Earth's illnesses and offers cure for the Evil.

If you have ever dreamed of a brighter future, The Warshal points the way to achieve that dream. If you have ever sought to participate in a Grand Adventure, The Warshal lays out the path. If you have ever asked, "Why am I here?", The Warshal has the answers. You name the question, on any subject which has ever perplexed you, whether profound or mundane and you will find Truth in The Warshal highly pertinent to that question. A VERY short list of topics cross-referenced and analyzed are the natures of life vs. Life, death, Hell vs. Heaven, God vs. gods, sin vs. "free-will", prayer, origin vs. destination, the Holy Grail, war, creation vs. evolution, "the law" vs. The LAW, the legal system, science and politics as new religions, forgiveness vs. redemption, and Transcendental Spirituality.

The Warshal is so packed with value that, just as with using MCC, there is no person on the planet who could not benefit incredibly by reading this book. Absolutely, the Truth is available here and now for your great benefit. If there is one last book that you will ever read, this must be the one. If you already have too many other things to do, purchase and read The Warshal first, for it will help you prioritize. Humans are traversing the gap between Judgment and Sentencing quickly and the watchful eyes of Truth and Truth's Enforcer see all. Without prioritization, you are just "grist for the mill."

Evil is so deep in this psychotic world and has been operating for so many millennia that virtually zero people on this planet are aware of the Truth, the real history, the real science, and therefore the real solutions. The time has come for the real solutions to surface. Evil can, must and will be cast into oblivion, never to return, and with Your help the sooner...the better. All it takes is for You to acknowledge and accept the helping hand now stretched before You. If You understand only one thing from this website, let it be that You DO have Purpose in this Life. Let it be that the Possibilities of the Open Heart are boundless. From The Warshal, learn who and what you are....as Truth comes quickly.

T.A.D.

ORDER THE WARSHAL: This book is definitely deep, but even so, it has life-changing value for those wanting to learn about Druids, Celts and Amazons, Love and Hate, histories of Western Europe, Greenland, the Asian Steppes, the Middle East, and even North America; there is profound material here for the political scientist, the biologist and the sociologist, environmentalist and patriot, for warriors and soldiers, chemists and alchemists, feminists, anarchists and physicists, historians and linguists, Christians, Buddhists, Muslims, Jews, etc. as well as agnostics and atheists. Finally, this book is a prime page-turner for anyone with a truly open mind, anyone who is ready and looking for the next step in LIFE!

The Nano-Domain and The Source: Transcendental Super-Superspirituality

"Now, most literally, let us go back to the "Source" ... Without my clarification on what has been happening and what is still happening at the macrocosmic level, one would not appreciate in its full extent, the inherent sacredness of all the extraordinary processes that take place within our microcosms. And, the deeper and the deeper one goes, the more one is getting closer to the "Transcendence Within".

In relation to one of the most fundamental aspects of the law of "bio-entropy" though, it seems extremely difficult to establish, throughout the entire biocosm, a valid system of communication on a vertical level. A highly perceptive person who has managed to follow me until now could pertinently wonder why we are not getting more "leadings, let alone more direct help from the most advanced "Beings of Light" whose stage of evolutionary advancement should make equal to the consensual idea of "god", if not superior as I have boldly stated it before. Likewise, if the "Inward Divine Source" is indeed the most powerful force within and without the whole universe, what are the reasons that keep this "Supreme Power" from directly solving our relatively insignificant problems, when seen from a global cosmic perspective, or from guiding us on the most efficient way to save ourselves. The answers to both questions are verticality and... verticality. Man pretends to be a highly evolved creature. Maybe you, who are reading those lines, think of yourself as a person on the path of "enlightenment". And yet, what control do you think that you have on your most basic physiological functions? What awareness did you ever have of your deeper cellular processes? Have you ever thought of the plight, the struggle, the misfortune, the acts of extraordinary heroism, the voluntary ultimate sacrifice of millions of your own cells, all that happening, right now, exactly as you are reading those lines? Have you ever heard their prayers? Have you ever answered them when they were beseeching you for help, for some guidance or simply for some mercy? Could you believe that sometimes, when their supplications have gone unanswered and that their suffering has gone unnoticed, they begin to get mad at you, mad at your indifference, mad at your cruel neglect, wondering indeed whether you could not be some sort of a "sadistic" and "abusive" master. Some of them go as far as denying that you exist, altogether. After all, should you be existing, wouldn't you show some compassion? Wouldn't you make some gesture on their behalf or at least send them some "leading" as to what they should do? Does that sound familiar? Have you ever thought of it? Haven't you understood yet that everything within yourself has consciousness? How could you ignore, that for your trillions of cells you are the "upper divine", the "higher power", the "grander intelligence" ? Well, obviously not so intelligent if you did not really think of it before... " (The Warshal, (9-1)

"The "cosmic conflict" between the "forces of separation" and the "forces of unification" takes place at every level of the universe's processes, within the apparently "inert configurations" which we call "objects," as well as within the "animated forms" which we call living things (when, of course, just everything is... alive). However, just due to the rate and magnitude of the functional opposition, what we call living things ("open systems") are the "battlefield" of a "conflict" of much more extreme intensity. In fact, each and every time any life form undergoes its own ontogenic processes, it somehow replicates what "has been" happening to the whole universe. From a state of initial unity and harmonious simplicity, cellular "entropy" sets in and culminates in multi-billion cells (often multi-trillion...) relatively unstable organisms whose internal (physiologic) conflicts between "fragmentation" and "cohesion" only answer the external (ecological) same conflicts. All of us are nothing less than a macro-colony of basic cellular entities that are, themselves, some sort of a symbiotic micro-colony essentially based on a bacterial setup. Our mitochondria, for instance, as well as many other fundamental components of our cells, are such cooperative and symbiotic bacteria that merged themselves within a proto-eukaryotic cellular entity, eventually to form our basic cell. Even the bacterium as such, represents another set of nano-colony, but as one says in such circumstances, this is another story. Every living organism thus forms an extremely complex array of smaller symbiotic elements which, sometimes, is inherently "explosive" as to its fundamental bio-equilibrium owing to the internal "opposition" between "antagonistic" forces. In fact, the true "miracle" of Life is that, despite the odds in favor of inner bio-disintegration, the forces of unification still achieve to maintain the extraordinary level of bio-cohesion which living things display. Even though internal "bio-entropy" sometimes brings the organism to structural breakdown, in case of a cancer for instance, "miraculous" bio-cohesion still remains the norm, proving by itself the fundamental "Divineness" of Life." (The Warshal, 7-9)

[From a list of cosmic rules defining a Transcendental Super-Spirituality provided in The Warshal, we pull these as further discussion of the sub-cellular nano-domain:]

"The second rule is the way by which the Divine insufflates this Universe which looks like a "balloon" with one unique, and yet multiple, "valve of insufflation". This "valve" is the Inward Divine Source, the Transcendence Within, which, in logical accordance to the polycentric expansion of this universe, lies within each of us, within each of all living things. The more one goes deeper toward the Source, the more one is getting close to the Absolute Divine. Conversely, the more one goes toward the macroscopic outer domain, the farther one gets from the Divine Source.

The third rule is the fundamental opposition between radically opposed and yet complementary forces, the "forces of unification" and the "forces of separation". The first ones are more potent when one goes deeper into the nano-domain from within and the second ones get increasingly prevalent when one goes farther inside of the macro-domain from without. The chaotic and catastrophic nature of this universe gets exponentially greater as those "forces of separation" become predominant to the point when and where evil eventually sets in through "cosmic accidents" that go beyond the level of mere chaos or catastrophe: Evil is when the "forces of separation" begin to insufflate some sort of "reverse consciousness" that from simple bio-separation reaches the point of bio-opposition...

The fifth rule is that although there are extremely potent "external forces", both of "Light" and "Darkness" with a dramatically strong prevalence of the second ones at the human level, the only True Divine lies within. The "forces of Light" abide to the Inward Divine Source when the "forces of darkness" oppose it, often quite effectively. The idea of "praying" to "outward forces" is not only senseless, but fundamentally "anti-divine". The only possible and legitimate direction of one's "prayers" is inward, toward the Inner Divine Source. All

"outward prayers" are not only illegitimate but, in fact, produce only one effect: Strengthen the "forces of darkness" in general and the "great evil consciousness" in particular. An "outward god" is more than an oxymoron; an "outward god," it is a false and evil "god". (The Warshal, 15-1)

All those fundamental, indeed Divine, rules are not theoretical. There are ways, truly concrete and practical highways, to re-access the Divine Within, to channel its Sacred Forces, to free and cleanse oneself from all previous attachments to evil. There are ways, to reach absolute Happiness, not in another mendacious "life", but in this one. There are ways to fight and win over evil and injustice. There are even ways, simple ways, to begin redeeming that World and redeeming ourselves before we prepare for a second Bio-Covenant, indeed more Sacred and more magnificent than the first Bio-Covenant. There are ways to transcend the rules of physics and even Natural Laws without ever violating them. I shall go as far as giving the most solemn reassurance that there exists ways to bypass the apparently "inescapable laws of cosmo-entropy". In fact it is even possible to counter-attack the macrocosm's evil from... a larger and external battle station, to decontaminate cosmic injustice not only from the nanocosmic Inward Source but indeed from a greater transcendental perspective. It is exactly when and where the notion of multiverses makes all the sense in the world. There are infinite parallel multi-dimensions and infinite parallel multi-universes. This is "God's Ultimate Secret Weapon". (The Warshal, 15-2)

[Regarding the illusion of space,] the father one gets from the Source, the more the forces of evil tend to prevail where, conversely, when from the macrocosm one journeys back to the Source through the nanocosm, evil gives way to the Divine breath of Transcendence, in its mightiest and purest expression. This being said and assuming that it will all remain crystal clear in the reader's mind, I would like now to evoke a little more the nano-domain (nanocosm). Put in conventional metaphysical terms, even though I am far from being too enthused about using the root "theos", when it comes to the idea of relationship with the "Divine", one could still call my system "nanotheological" in origin. Which means that the more one "retreats" into the world of the "infinitely small", the more one gets close to the Divine Source. Transposed on the metaphor of "time", the more one sails back to the "extremely old", the more also one approaches sublime Transcendence. On that last point, theoretically at least, I should be in full agreement with human religious doctrines which unanimously refer to a state of primordial paradisiacal condition. The whole idea is contained in the Greek word "archaic" which has a double convergent meaning: That of an ancient primordial state, temporal in origin (as in "archeology" or "archeobacteria") and that of absolute legitimacy in relation to the idea of power (as in "monarchy" or "anarchy"). It is due to its multiplied worth that I chose to call my "ideological" system "Biarchic," rather than Biocratic ("krates" in Greek refers to "force" rather than legitimacy, as in "might makes right"). Therefore, if I wanted to go to the ultimate semantic accuracy, I would define my "ideology" as Nanocratic Biarchy in which Divine bio-legitimacy gets reinforced when one penetrates deeper into the most extreme microcosm, where "nanotropic might" truly makes right.

Now, because I would like, somehow, to reward whoever has showed the commendable bravery and unexpected intelligence not to have dropped from my "Biosophical" work at a much earlier phase of my writings, I am disposed to become more and more practical in order to offer the readers concrete answers and methods for them to practice my system to their most immediate benefit. The most complex, often insurmountable, problem with trying to reach out toward the "Divine", lies in the communication systems. Due to their bleak agenda of strict domination over people through a deliberate system of biased co-dependence, religions are the very last area in which one should be looking to have a chance to establish a valid "relationship" with "God". As, I hope, the reader should have clearly understood by now, not only their "god" (false "gods" and fake "goddesses" just the same) has nothing to do whatsoever with the true "Divine," but in awful truth it is indeed the absolute opposite of the sole, only and true "God" which lies at, and beyond, the "Inward Source". Religion's worst nightmare becomes a reality when, after they have fully comprehended its evil and conspiratorial nature, people achieve to remove the religious malignant growth that, deliberately and criminally, kept them from accessing, by themselves, to the Sacred that dwelt all long within themselves, not in some mendacious hereafter and not in some remote corner of the "heavens" either, where, in fact, it is pure evil that lurks... not "God". When, and only when, that lethal tumor had been successfully excised, people suddenly become free to become their own "priest" or "priestess" and celebrate the sublime reconnection with the Sacred within the Holy Temple of their own body which they had, hitherto despised, maligned and all too often gravely mistreated, since they had been told that it was either corrupt or so ephemerally insignificant that it was only worth self-contempt or self-mutilation. In fact, since time does not exist, there are no such things as ephemerality or perenniality. Your body, like that of any other life form in the universe, is the sacred bio-repository of millions and millions of Holy "nano-universes" that all converge toward the "Inward Divine Source". Stop immediately trashing your Holy bodily temple. Think of all the atrocious desecrations and mutilations which, under the evil influence of all human religious systems, you have afflicted on your sacred organism until now. Remember all the insane chemical and physical pollution that you have perpetrated against it all along your life. How could it be that you have not even realized the unthinkable amount of "Divine Love" which the "Transcendence Within" had Miraculously bestowed upon you, again and again, always to bail you out from your own self-destruction even after you did everything you could possibly do to make yourself sick? Each time when, against all logic, you have "healed" and recovered from your own repeated attacks, it has been this Divinely Merciful "Inward Source" which offered you this highly undeserved new chance. It is not those deleterious "medications", nor those either wrongful or laughable "therapies" that have brought you back from all your health crises. It is not those pernicious false "incantations" or treacherous "outward prayers" that have caused your deeper homeostasis, "miraculously", to regain your internal balance. It is the "Source" and the "Source" alone that reinsuflated you with a renewed bio-energy which you had yourself destructively compromised." (The Warshal, 9-6)
